

SWOA sponsored British Orienteering Event Safety Workshop
Sunday 23 February 2014

The South West Orienteering Association is organising a British Orienteering Event Safety Workshop in Staunton, Forest of Dean. The free Workshop is aimed at all current and future event officials. But any interested orienteer, young and old will be most welcome too. Event safety is ultimately the result of the combined efforts of the organiser, planner, controller and competitors of any event.

Date: Sunday 23 February 2014

Time: 3pm to 6pm. After the NGOC galoppen at Knockalls Enclosure (1km).

Venue: White Horse Inn, Staunton, Forest of Dean, GL16 8PA, grid reference SO 548127. Meals available all day. www.whitehorseinnstaunton.co.uk

Content: Interactive review of key aspects of event safety and welfare for all participants; including search and rescue and risk assessments. You are reminded that organisers of Level C events and above are advised to attend an Event Safety Workshop, and it is a requirement for becoming a licensed Controller or moving to the next level. All attendees will receive a British Orienteering certificate of attendance.

Bookings: To Katy Dyer BOK (Event Safety Tutor) before 22.2.14 please, tel 0117 968 4173, family.dyer@blueyonder.co.uk
